

Getting Started with NYTimes.com

NYTimes.com provides access to the latest news articles from the New York Times newspaper (available in English, Chinese and Spanish). PLEASE NOTE: NYTimes Cooking, the Crossword and TimesMachine are not included.

What You Need

- A computer, phone or tablet with an internet connection (wifi or data)
- A NYTimes.com account
- The New York Times app for iOS or Android (if using a phone or tablet)

NYTimes.com is a third-party service that is governed by its own privacy policy and practices, not the library's. We recommend that you consult their Terms of Service and Privacy Policy.

Using NYTimes.com in the library

On any library computer, go to nytimes.com. Click on register now to create an account or log in with your account.

Using NYTimes.com remotely

If you do not have a NYTimes.com account, you will need to create an account in order to gain access.

Create a NYTimes.com account

- Go to cpl.social/nytimes and click on the Redeem button.
- Select Create Account. Enter a valid email address and create a password.
- If you already have an account, log in.
- You will be issued a pass that will allow you 72 hours of complimentary access. You will get a message that indicates when your pass expires and a link to go to NYTimes.com. You may redeem as many 72 hour passes as you need.

Use NYTimes.com on a phone or tablet remotely

To read on your phone or tablet, you must create an account, sign into NYTimes.com and secure a pass.

- Download and install the NYTimes app for iOS or Android, depending on your device.
- Log in using to your NYTimes.com account.
- Each pass gives you 72 hours of complimentary access. Once it has expired, you can log in again to get new pass.

Help with NYTimes.com

- Visit NYTimes.com's Help section
- Submit a support request at help@nytimes.com
- Contact us with your questions