BORROW THE INTERNET FROM CALEDON PUBLIC LIBRARY

Caledon Public Library has added 50 Hotspots to our special collections and adults can now check out the Internet. The wireless Hotspot devices offer unlimited access to the Internet anywhere in Canada that offers Rogers cell phone coverage. The devices are available for a one week loan and free to anyone 18 years and older with a Caledon Public Library card.

“This new collection supports Caledon Public Library’s continued efforts to lessen the impacts of the digital divide and, as per the CPL Strategic Plan, to ‘explore and adopt new and emerging technologies’” says Colleen Lipp, CEO and Chief Librarian of Caledon Public Library. “The need for reliable and affordable internet connectivity across all areas of Caledon has been identified as a priority by Town Council and the Library is excited to support this endeavour.”

Caledon residents are now able to place requests for the Hotspots using the Library’s online catalogue and any late returns will be subject to overdue fines. Up to 15 devices can connect to a hotspot at any time, providing access for the entire household or all employees of a small business.

For more information or to borrow a Hotspot visit the library website at www.caledon.library.on.ca or drop in to any one of our 6 branches
